The StoryTelling Project

Express your learning story in your own way on the StoryTelling Project and share it with others — together our stories can contribute to the rethinking of our learning systems.

Stories connect us, help build relationships and share information that is important to learning about ourselves, people and the world around us.

This project’s goal is to provide awareness through stories of current barriers, challenges, successes and exclusionary situations that we all experience in our learning journeys.

Start building your story!

Storytelling safety & etiquette

- Avoid identifying information such as names and addresses in your story.
- Don’t publish photos or video of other people without their explicit consent.
- Avoid content that threatens or intimidates any person or suggests violence, hatred or discrimination toward other people.

---

This project is supported by the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation and the Oak Foundation. Stories on this site are distributed under the CC BY 4.0 license. Please email us if you wish to remove your story from this website.
Express your learning story in your own way on the StoryTelling Project and share it with others — together our stories can contribute to the rethinking of our learning systems.

Stories connect us, help build relationships and share information that is important to learning about ourselves, people and the world around us.

This project's goal is to provide awareness through stories of current barriers, challenges, successes and exclusionary situations that we all experience in our learning journeys.

Start building your story!

Storytelling safety & etiquette

- Avoid identifying information such as names and addresses in your story.
- Don't publish photos or video of other people without their explicit consent.
- Avoid content that threatens or intimidates any person or suggests violence, hatred or discrimination toward other people.

This project is supported by the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation and the Oak Foundation. Stories on this site are distributed under the CC BY 4.0 license. Please email us if you wish to remove your story from this website.
Express your learning story in your own way on the StoryTelling Project and share it with others — together our stories can contribute to the rethinking of our learning systems.

Stories connect us, help build relationships and share information that is important to learning about ourselves, people and the world around us.

This project’s goal is to provide awareness through stories of current barriers, challenges, successes and exclusionary situations that we all experience in our learning journeys.

Start building your story!

---

Storytelling safety & etiquette

- Avoid identifying information such as names and addresses in your story.
- Don’t publish photos or video of other people without their explicit consent.
- Avoid content that threatens or intimidates any person or suggests violence, hatred or discrimination toward other people.

---

This project is supported by the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation and the Oak Foundation.
Stories on this site are distributed under the CC BY 4.0 license. Please email us if you wish to remove your story from this website.
Express your learning story in your own way on the StoryTelling Project and share it with others — together our stories can contribute to the rethinking of our learning systems.

Stories connect us, help build relationships and share information that is important to learning about ourselves, people and the world around us.

This project’s goal is to provide awareness through stories of current barriers, challenges, successes and exclusionary situations that we all experience in our learning journeys.

Start building your story!

---

Storytelling safety & etiquette

- Avoid identifying information such as names and addresses in your story.
- Don’t publish photos or video of other people without their explicit consent.
- Avoid content that threatens or intimidates any person or suggests violence, hatred or discrimination toward other people.
Express your learning story in your own way on the StoryTelling Project and share it with others — together our stories can contribute to the rethinking of our learning systems.

Stories connect us, help build relationships and share information that is important to learning about ourselves, people and the world around us.

This project’s goal is to provide awareness through stories of current barriers, challenges, successes and exclusionary situations that we all experience in our learning journeys.

Start building your story!

Storytelling safety & etiquette

- Avoid identifying information such as names and addresses in your story.
- Don’t publish photos or video of other people without their explicit consent.
- Avoid content that threatens or intimidates any person or suggests violence, hatred or discrimination toward other people.

This project is supported by the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation and the Oak Foundation.

Stories on this site are distributed under the CC BY 4.0 license. Please email us if you wish to remove your story from this website.
Express your learning story in your own way on the StoryTelling Project and share it with others — together our stories can contribute to the rethinking of our learning systems.

Stories connect us, help build relationships and share information that is important to learning about ourselves, people and the world around us.

This project’s goal is to provide awareness through stories of current barriers, challenges, successes and exclusionary situations that we all experience in our learning journeys.

Start building your story!

Using This Site
By SJRK Team
Keywords: Help, Example

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetuer adipiscing elit, sed diam nonummy nibh euismod tincidunt ut laoreet dolore magna aliquam erat volutpat. Ut wisi enim ad minim veniam, quis nostrud exerci tation ullamcorper suscipit lobortis nisl ut aliquip ex ea commodo consequat. Duis autem vel eum iriure dolor in hendrerit in vulputate velit esse molestie consequat, vel illum dolore eu feugiat nulla facilisis at vero eros et accumsan.

Important notes
• Your published story will be licensed under CC BY 4.0.
• You won’t be able to make changes to your story once you publish.
• You can have your story removed by emailing stories@idrc.ocadu.ca

Storytelling safety & etiquette
• Avoid identifying information such as names and addresses in your story.
• Don’t publish photos or video of other people without their explicit consent.
• Avoid content that threatens or intimidates any person or suggests violence, hatred or discrimination toward other people.

This project is supported by the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation and the Oak Foundation. Stories on this site are distributed under the CC BY 4.0 license. Please email us if you wish to remove your story from this website.
Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit, sed diam nonummy nibh euismod tincidunt ut laoreet dolore magna aliquam erat volutpat. Ut wisi enim ad minim veniam, quis nostrud exerci tation ullamcorper suscipit lobortis nisl ut aliquip ex ea commodo consequat. Duis autem vel eum iuclare dolor in hendrerit in vulputate velit esse molestie consequat, vel illum dolore eu feugiat nulla facilisis at vero eros et accumsan.
The StoryTelling Project

Using This Site
By SJRK Team
Keywords: Help, Example
Contains: text

Using This Site
By SJRK Team
Keywords: Help, Example
Contains: text

Using This Site
By SJRK Team
Keywords: Help, Example
Contains: text

This project is supported by the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation and the Oak Foundation. Stories on this site are distributed under the CC BY 4.0 license. Please email us if you wish to remove your story from this website.