  - How does the IDRC support TIG in implementing their efforts?
  - How early on do we want to open the design/development process up to the public?
- Concerns are mainly around personally identifiable or otherwise sensitive information
- Fractal codesign!
- Basic first steps for the coming year
- Static and accessible resources
- PDF with good accessibility
- Static website
- Then determine how to improve upon it
- Open licencing, CC licencing
- To facilitate translation, adaptation, other contexts
- Some of TIG's existing guides are already under open licences, apparently
- May depend on who was funding it
- Still nailing down a date for an announcement or "media splash"
- Looking at the latter part of next year, September/October
- Inviting other partners to contribute
- Timing?
- Some of their projects will contribute in different ways
- Breaking up authoring of the guide/toolkit into smaller more manageable parts
