

Community Meeting (June 27, 2018): Accessible Media Production program at Mohawk College

Description

Presenter: Jennifer Jahnke, Aiann Oishi

An overview of Mohawk College's Accessible Media Production graduate certificate, the first program of its kind in Ontario that focuses on creating accessible content to meet the AODA legislative requirements; including, captioning (open, closed and ASL/LSQ), described and integrated described video, fully accessible documents (Word, PDF, etc.) including documents written with inclusive writing and communication, accessible websites and social media – all while keeping the end-user in mind as we move from accessibility to usability. Aiann Oishi, a graduate of the Accessible Media Production program will present her capstone research project, titled: Web ABC Toolkit: What is the Accessibility Business Case?

<https://www.mohawkcollege.ca/programs/graduate-studies/accessible-media-production-390>

Notes